We understand the importance of keeping your privacy and hold information with the utmost integrity, care and confidentiality.

If you feel that your data is mishandled, it is within your civil rights to make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) at any time. This is the UK's supervisory authority for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). However we would appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns prior to any approach to the ICO.

Personal information

In providing you with our services, Career Fit Today will handle your personal information. We are very aware that you trust us to keep this information confidential and that is why we comply with UK data protection laws.

Securing information

We are committed to keeping your personal information safe and secure. Thus we have ensured physical, electronic and operational procedures intended to safeguard and secure the information we collect from you. All our website data is held under SSL to ensure the transmission of data remains encrypted between our server and browsers. Furthermore, all information is kept on a password protected computer and worksheets.

Information we may hold about you

The information we hold about you may include sensitive personal information. We may collect this during any sessions, workshops, presentations or other work we deliver.

When we collect your information

Information about you is collected when you engage with Career Fit Today either by registering for a service, or submitting a query or enquiry about our offering and business in general. As with all websites, information is also collected while you browse our website if your cookies have not been disabled.

Using your information

We use your personal information to provide you with details about any upcoming events, share relevant information or keep you up to date with the most relevant information within the career development field.

Sharing information

None of your personal data will be shared with third parties.

Keeping information

We will only keep your personal information for as long as is necessary and in accordance with UK law.
